

Guest Performance by Eminent Artist at the Department of Music

Visit of Pandit Somanath Mardur and Family to the Department of Music

The Department of Music, Sharnbasva University, Kalaburagi, had the honour of hosting Pandit Somanath Mardur, a renowned Hindustani classical vocalist, along with his son Vidwan Kumar Mardur and granddaughter, as part of a special musical interaction.

In a heartwarming continuation of musical tradition, the granddaughter of Pandit Somanath Mardur performed a powerful Vachana recital, reflecting both youthful expression and deep-rooted heritage. She was ably accompanied on Tabla by Prof. Shanmukh Patil, whose support added rhythmic depth to the presentation.

The presence of three generations of accomplished musicians at the department was a rare and inspiring moment for the students and faculty. Their visit not only celebrated the rich tradition of Hindustani music but also reinforced the department's mission of preserving and promoting classical art forms.

Such interactions offer invaluable exposure to young learners and foster a sense of continuity in the classical music community.
