World Music Day Celebration

The Department of Music, Sharnbasva University, Kalaburagi, celebrated World Music Day on 22 June 2025, showcasing the essence of Indian classical music through soulful performances and insightful reflections.

The event was graced by Prof. Revayya Vastradmath, Dean, Department of Music, Sharnbasva University, Kalaburgi and respected figure in the field of music, who served as the Chief Guest for the occasion.

The Guest Artist, Sri Santosh Kamshetty, Research Scholar, Department of Music, Sharnbasva University, presented a captivating Hindustani Classical Vocal recital. His performance was a beautiful display of traditional raga rendition, marked by depth and devotion.

He was accompanied by Sri Mallikarjun Vastradmath on Harmonium, an esteemed alumnus of the Department, and Prof. Prashant Vastradmath on Tabla, whose skilled accompaniment enhanced the musical experience.

The event was anchored and led by Dr. Mallikarjun Police Patil, Research Guide, who also delivered a thought-provoking speech on the importance and global relevance of World Music Day. His reflections on music's ability to transcend borders and connect hearts set the tone for the celebration.

The presence of faculty members, research scholars, and students made the event an enriching experience, emphasizing the Department's ongoing commitment to nurturing musical talent and cultural expression.

The Department of Music extends its heartfelt gratitude to all the participants and attendees who contributed to making the event a memorable success.
