- The Music Department at Sharnbasva University has completely transformed my understanding of Hindustani classical music. The faculty members are incredibly knowledgeable and supportive, always encouraging us to explore beyond the textbooks. We get hands-on exposure through workshops, regular performances, and interactions with renowned musicians. I feel proud to be a part of such a rich musical tradition in this university

- What I love the most about our Music Department is the peaceful and inspiring environment. Whether it's vocal, instrumental, or theory classes, each session is filled with passion and personal attention. We're given a lot of individual guidance, which helps us improve steadily. The department also gives us chances to perform on stage, which has boosted my confidence a lot.

MALLIKARJUN

- As a first-year student, I was nervous at first, but the welcoming atmosphere in the Music Department made me feel at home. The Guru-Shishya tradition followed here builds a strong bond between students and teachers. I've already learned so much in just a few months — not just about music, but also discipline, respect, and expression. I'm truly grateful to be learning in such a culturally rich environment
